

Biodata:

Claire Kramersch

Claire Kramersch is Professor of German and Affiliate Professor of Education at UC Berkeley, USA. She has written extensively on the learning and teaching of foreign languages, language and culture, and multilingualism. She is the coeditor with Ulrike Jessner of The Multilingual Challenge (de Gruyter, in press). She is President of AILA.

Mae-Ran Park

Dr. Mae-Ran Park is a professor at Pukyong National University, Korea. Her research interests include ELT methodology and materials development. She is currently president of the PKETA. She obtained her MATESL and Ph.D. from the University of Illinois. She served as a visiting professor at Ritsumeikan University, Japan, and Harvard University, U.S.

Honna, Nobuyuki

Now a professor emeritus at Aoyama Gakuin University, Tokyo, Professor Nobuyuki Honna continues to work with international colleagues on a wide range of sociolinguistic projects. With his research interest in English as an Asian language, Professor Honna is founding editor and advisor of Asian Englishes (now with Routledge). He also serves as an editorial adviser for World Englishes, English Today, and Journal of English as a Lingua Franca. His recent publications include English as an International Language: Communication across Cultures (2013) and Educating Global-Minded Individuals in Universities and Companies (2012). From 2004 to 2010, Professor Honna served on the Foreign Language Committee of Japan's Ministry of Education and Science.

Hisako Yamauchi

Hisako Yamauchi is a former professor of the University of Nagasaki, Siebold. She served for JACET as a Vice president from 2011-2015. She is an AILA EB member representing JAAL in JACET. Her research interests include intercultural communication, English education, ESP and Phonetics.