Native English specialist in social studies (history/geography) for French lycée

Teaching position in ESL and American social studies (history/geography) in English.

The teacher will be in charge of middle and high school classes for the entire school year (September-June).

S/he will design and implement syllabi corresponding to the French national curriculum and will be familiar with classroom management and evaluation/assessment of a diverse student body. Interdepartmental teamwork and collaboration are mandatory.

The ideal candidate will possess:

• US or Canadian certification in high school history, geography, social studies, or equivalent
• Interest in the French education system
• Experience teaching and living abroad
• Professional responsibility and open-mindedness, an ability to adapt to new, superior interpersonal skills and a spirit of collaboration
• Enthusiasm for interdisciplinary projects
• Interest in research and professional inquiry
• Appreciation for the diversity of learners (differentiated teaching)
• Capacity for reflective analysis and a passion for professional development to improve curriculum planning and design, classroom management, and evaluation/assessment
• Professional work ethic: discretion, respect for different cultures, secularism

Specific requirements:

• Must be a native English speaker and/or have significant experience/qualifications in the North American education system
• Knowledge of the OIB curriculum
• Knowledge of the OIB Baccalaureat exam in history/geography
• Some knowledge of French language appreciated, but not required

Contact:

• Patricia Reynaud, Vice Principal
• recrutement@lfitokyo.org