

Part-time (hijokin) instructor position to teach English Composition

The Core Program in the Faculty of Liberal Arts (FLA) at Sophia University invites applications for a non-tenured, part-time (hijokin) instructor position to teach English Composition starting in April 2021. The course will meet twice a week for 100-minute sessions. The successful applicant will teach a course on advanced academic writing at the university level (NOT EFL).

Qualifications:

1. Masters' Degree in Applied Linguistics, Rhetoric & Composition, TESOL, or closely related fields
2. Experience teaching advanced writing courses at the university level
3. Relevant research interests
4. Understanding of the FLA and its students
(see https://www.sophia.ac.jp/eng/program/undergraduate_c/UG_LA/index.html)

Strong preference will be given to applicants who can teach Mondays and Thursdays first period (9:00-10:40).

Contract: Yearly; renewable up to five years. (*Maximum years of employment may vary according to personnel and curriculum planning of Sophia Corporation.)

Application procedure: Applicants should email their CV and cover letter to [ggfogal\[at\]sophia.ac.jp](mailto:ggfogal[at]sophia.ac.jp) by October 31, 2020. Your letter must indicate why you are suited to teach in the FLA Core Program. Shortlisted candidates will be notified by the end of November, 2020.

Contact: Gary Fogal, Coordinator of the FLA Core Program

E-mail: [ggfogal\[at\]sophia.ac.jp](mailto:ggfogal[at]sophia.ac.jp)