

2 Part-time Lecturer Positions (Native English Speaker)
Department of International Studies, Jissen Women's University

Expected Start Date: April 1, 2026

All semesters are 14 weeks with 100-minute classes.

Course to be Taught:

Effective Communication b - 2nd-year (spring semester only) Monday 1st period

Effective Communication b - 2nd-year (spring semester only) Monday 2nd period

Effective Communication b - 2nd-year (spring semester only) Wednesday 1st period

Effective Communication b - 2nd-year (spring semester only) Wednesday 2nd period

This course will focus on two aspects of communication: listening and speaking. Students will be provided ample exposure to a wide variety of listening tasks to improve listening comprehension as well as speaking/discussion assignments to enhance their fluency. - *Syllabi and textbook are provided.

Speaking & Presentation a - 2nd-year (spring semester only) Preferably Wednesday, 3rd period

The purpose of this course is to enhance students' proficiency in giving presentations based on research concerning aspects of various countries using Power Point slides. - *Syllabus is provided.

Practical English a - 3rd-year (spring semester) Preferably Monday 3rd period

TOEIC Speaking & Listening Preparation - *14-week Syllabus is necessary.

Practical English b - 3rd-year (fall semester) Preferably Monday 3rd period

TOEFL ibt Speaking and Listening - *14-week Syllabus is necessary.

Qualifications

Candidates need at least 2 years of English teaching experience at a Japanese university.

Application documents

Email an English resume with photo to:

Associate Professor, Michael Edwards

Department of International Studies

edwards-michael@jissen.ac.jp