

[This English translation has been prepared from the official Japanese announcement.
Please refer to the official Japanese version for clarifications.]

July 1, 2021

To Whom It May Concern

USHIDA Chizuru
Dean, Nanzan University Faculty of Foreign Studies

Notice of Position Available for a Native or Near-native Speaker of English who is a
Specialist in Applied Linguistics and/or ESL Education

The Department of British and American Studies, Faculty of Foreign Studies of Nanzan University announces the establishment of a search committee to fill one post for a native English speaker who is a specialist in Applied Linguistics and/or ESL education. The successful candidate will teach various English language skills classes for English majors, courses for ESL teacher training, and content-based courses related to their area of specialization.

Job Title: Professor or Associate Professor

Number of Position: 1

Department: Faculty of Foreign Studies, Department of British and American Studies

Courses to be taught: Undergraduate Seminar & Graduation Thesis Seminar, Introduction to Foreign Language Education, Theories of Foreign Language Education, Special Topics in EFL/ESL, Special Topics in English, English classes for British & American Studies majors, and courses for general education.

Area of Specialization: Applied Linguistics and ESL/EFL Education

Starting Date of Appointment: 1 April 2022

Qualifications:

- (1) Candidates must be a native or near native English speaker who can teach the courses above.
- (2) Candidates must have completed a PhD degree or have equivalent research achievements.
- (3) Candidates who have Japanese language ability sufficient to participate in daily administrative duties of regular faculty members are highly desirable and preferable.

- (4) Candidates should be willing to undertake department responsibilities.
- (5) After appointment, the candidate must reside in an area easily accessible to Nanzan University.

Application Deadline: 22 August 2021 (Documents must be received by this date.)

Required Documents:

- (1) Curriculum vitae
- (2) List of research and teaching achievements (papers, books, and monographs, including the MA or PhD theses)
- (3) Abstract of each publication listed in (2) above. (Approximately 400 characters in Japanese or 200 words in English.)
- (4) Three recent major publications. (Off-prints or copies are acceptable. In the list of publications, please indicate these with a circle.)
- (5) Proof of the highest degree achieved. (Copy of a diploma is acceptable.)
- (6) One letter of recommendation. (The relationship between the candidate and referee must be made clear in the reference. Please submit in a sealed envelope.)

Note : Candidates who pass the document screening will be invited to come to Nanzan University or online for an interview with a demonstration class. (Those invited for an interview will be required to bear their own travel expense.)

Application and accompanying documents should be submitted to:

Search Committee (Applied Linguistics and ESL/EFL Education)
Department of British and American Studies
Office of Faculty of Foreign Studies
Nanzan University
18 Yamazato-cho, Showa-ku
Nagoya 466-8673 JAPAN

Only postal applications will be accepted.

For further inquiries, please contact:

Office of Faculty of Foreign Studies
E-mail: f-s@nanzan-u.ac.jp
(Inquiries by phone are not accepted.)

Notes:

(1) Please note that submitted documents such as off-prints and copies will not be returned. For books, if you prefer them to be returned, please enclose a return envelope with stamps to cover the postage.

(2) All personal information provided on the application will be handled with the utmost care in accordance with the University's privacy regulations. The information will not be used for any purpose other than screening candidates for the position.